Vikings and Names

Exploring place-names, personal names, and the ongoing legacy of Scandinavian speakers in language, literature and culture

SNSBI Day Conference, Saturday 19 October 2019, 10am*–4.30pm
King's Manor, University of York, YO1 7EP

- David Parsons on The Vikings and the Cross
- Josh Neal on Old Norse býr-names in Britain
- Eleanor Rye on language contact in Viking Age England
- Pragya Vohra on using place-names to understand migration
- Matthew Townend on Vikings, Victorians and dialect
- Jack Hartley on Norman Nicholson and Norse heritage in Lakeland
- Peter McClure on Old Norse contribution to English personal names

Registration

Conference fee (including lunch, teas & coffees): £20 for SNSBI members; £25 for non-members; £10 for student members; £15 for student non-members.
Please register by Tuesday 15th October at https://store.york.ac.uk/product-catalogue/centre-for-medieval-studies/society-for-name-studies-in-britain-and-ireland-autumn-conference
*Coffee at 10am; papers begin at 10.30

Any queries about conference to: Diana.Whaley@ncl.ac.uk
Queries about online registration to: cms-office@york.ac.uk